

PREDEPARTURE ORIENTATION FOR VIETNAMESE STUDENTS

Effective Online Learning

Joseph A. McVeigh

Joe McVeigh is a teacher, teacher trainer, and independent educational consultant based in Middlebury, Vermont in the north eastern United States. He has taught previously at California State University Los Angeles, the California Institute of Technology, and the University of Southern California. He serves on the Board of Directors of the TESOL International Association and has traveled as an English language specialist for the U.S. Department of State, giving workshops and conference presentations in a variety of countries as well as online webinar presentations. He is co-author of two textbooks in the Q: Skills for Success series from Oxford University Press and co-author of Tips for Teaching Culture from Pearson.

Mai Nguyen

Mai is a new-graduated student at the Minerva Schools at KGI with a double concentration degree on Strategic Finance and New Business Ventures. She has extensive experience studying online during her four years with Minerva where all courses are conducted as online seminars. As an undergraduate student intern, Mai had international working experience with Unilever in Chile, T-Hub in India, SAP in South Korea, and project FixIt in the Mayor's Office, San Francisco, United States. For short-term, Mai wants to become a financial analyst. For longer-term, she just wants to retire early (35) and work in the non-profit sector to "redistribute the resources of the world".

Tung Vu

Tung Vu is a PhD student in Education at the University at Albany (UAlbany), State University of New York (SUNY). Tung has more than five years of teaching and research experience. He is awarded a Research Assistantships (four years) to commence a doctoral study at UAlbany in 2019. He was also a recipient of Elizabeth H. Christen Endowment and a grant for Professional Development from UAlbany in 2020. He has published his research on some international Educational journals and TESOL newsletters. Over the past four years, he was able to present in several Educational and TESOL local and international conferences, such as in the United States, Japan, the Philippines, Cambodia, and Vietnam. He is a Review Co-Director of VietTESOL International Convention 2020 in Da Nang City and a Reviewer of TESOL International Conventional in Texas 2021.